ALUMNI COULD NOT AGREE.
Meeting at St. Louis University Without Result.

At the annual meeting of the Alumni Association of St. Louis University, held at the university hall last night, the election of officers was held without result. A small portion of the membership was in attendance, and those present were divided as to whether they should hold an election or wait until such a time as the prevailing conditions in the city would allow of a fairer attendance.

About fifty members were present. The meeting was called to order by President Tracy Paul Cooke about 8:30 o'clock. He suggested that the election should be postponed until after the street railway strike, when a large number of the membership would be in attendance.

The suggestion was placed in the form of a motion and carried. The meeting was then adjourned until the first of September. The first speaker to take the floor was R. Kane, who was given the floor. He stated that the constitution of the society provides for the election of officers at the annual meeting to be held on the last Wednesday in May. He stated that the constitution must be followed or discarded altogether.

The president replied that the point taken was purely technical and that the prevailing conditions in the city he believed it was best to wait until a later date when the officers elected for the coming year would have important duties to perform and believed that all the members should have a voice in their election, as that the best candidates would be selected.

SENATOR GALLINGER HAS LITTLE SUPPORT.

Senate Expected to Table Motion to Reconsider World's Fair Vote.

PENNSYLVANIANS IN CAUCUS.

Their Proposition to Friends of the Purchase Exposition—Latter Now in a Position to Dictate Terms.

Washington, May 30.—Senator Gallinger's motion to reconsider the vote by which the Senate adopted the Louisiana Purchase World's Fair amendment as a part of the sundry civil bill is the unfinished business before the Senate. Under the rules the unfinished business is not before the Senate at 3 o'clock each day.

When Senator Gallinger's motion is brought to the attention of the Senate tomorrow for action, a motion will be made by some friend of the Fair to lay Senator Gallinger's motion on the table. The vote will then be taken on this motion. Neither Senator Cockrell nor Senator Vest has any doubt as to the result. They are confident that the motion to lay the Gallinger motion on the table will prevail by a good majority.

So far as known the only Senator besides Senator Gallinger specially interested in the adoption of Senator Penrose's motion for reconsideration is Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania. Senator Penrose has an amendment which he is anxious to have made a part of the sundry civil bill, and for this reason will support Senator Gallinger in his fight with all the influence which he can command.

Senator Penrose's amendment is one making an appropriation of $200,000 for the Philadelphia museum. Senator Gallinger's amendment, the ruling out of which yesterday prompted his fight in the Senate, is an amendment making an appropriation of $50,000 to defray the expenses of a commission to investigate the conditions which have caused the Philadelphia museum to be in a state of collapse.

Johannesburg is in the hands of the British. The surrender was effected yesterday.

Border trouble between Portuguese East Africa and the Transvaal is threatened.

Paul Dillon, secretary, and declared with vehemence that, technically or not, the election of officers should be postponed until after the street railway strike, when a large number of the membership would be in attendance.

The gray-haired members with cool heads and some serious disagreement might occur and after a whispered consultation among them Doctor John H. Simon made a motion to adjourn. The motion was carried.

FRONT GATE OF PEKIN.

The "Boxers" who have been joined by part of the Manchurian army and some of the Imperial Chinese troops are reported massed at the gates of Peking, preparing to attack the capital.

RUSSIAN TROOPS ARE STOPPED.

his opinion, in the fact that among the Chinese there are "large numbers of inflammable persons."

The Boxers are a new organization. Sir Huddell never heard of it during his twenty years residence in China. Its members, he says, are all well-to-do.

FIGHTING REPORTED.
London, May 31.—The Daily Mail has received the following from Tien-Tsin, dated May 30:

"Heavy fighting has taken place between the Imperial troops and the 'Boxers' at Tien-Tsin. The result is not known. Railway traffic at Peking has been resumed."

"The foreign settlement here is sufficiently protected by the American and Japanese troops which have been landed. Consequently the settlement is safe."

GERMANY GOING SLOW.
Berlin, May 30.—Regarding the disorders fomented by the "Boxers," a high official of the German Foreign Office said today:

"German citizens have not yet been attacked. Germany, therefore, has been following the lead of France in diplomatic action, her efforts being more immovably affected. The case will be otherwise if the German Legation at Peking is attacked."

When asked if it were true that 100 German marines had joined 300 French marines for the rescue of the Imperial Legation, the official replied:

"There have been no calls for marines. It must have been civilian Germans, acting upon their own responsibility."

The Foreign Office attributes the troubles in China to the hostile attitude of the present Chinese Government toward foreigners.

AMERICANS KILLED.
Washington, May 30.—An official report has been received at the State or Navy department from any of the officials in China since yesterday's report from Minister Conner, which stated that 20 Americans had been killed by the Boxers.

It is assumed by the officials here that there has been no serious change in the situation, or at any rate, none affecting the American interests.

The American interest in the situation here has so far been directly attacked among the present uprising by the "Boxers," and State Department should direct attention to the fact that the Boxers are not only attacking the American interests, but also the Chinese interests.

A single American citizen has been killed so far as is known. If the situation here is as serious as it appears, it might be difficult to find ground for arbitrary action as the landing of United States marines in the Chinese capital, but as the State Department has not yet received the report of the development of the "Boxer" uprising, it would be premature to make any such decision.

The great coup of the friends of the World's Fair occurred in the Senate yesterday was the chief topic on the House side today. The moral effect of the Senate victory was undoubtedly great. That class of members which is anxious to be regarded as the winning side of every big proposition was influenced from antagonism or indifference to the World's Fair movement.

To support the motion of Senator Gallinger to prevent consideration of the World's Fair bill was acknowledged even by his closest friends. None of them had any doubt that the Senate would vote in favor of the motion to reconsider.

At practically certain that the Louisiana Purchase World's Fair amendment will be a part of the sundry civil bill, all the members of the House will come to the House. This being the case, a vote upon it will be unavoidable.

The fact that the amendment passed the Senate without division and without debate, and the further fact that 25 members of the House have signed the petition to the Speaker for the consideration of the House World's Fair bill, continue many of the indications of indifference to the World's Fair bill.

The House conference will be called on the World's Fair bill has now secured a bad which, in all probability, will make it a winner. Many members who make strong by the Speaker upon an occasion where the outcome was in doubt will be quick to turn away from him whenever it is evident that his power is to be overthrown. President McKinley, according to the Speaker himself, would abandon his antagonistic policy.

Even if the House should vote to reconsider the Senate amendment for the World's Fair, the friends of the measure believe they will win out. A vote to reconsider would make the amendment a subject of conference. The Senate conference for the sundry civil bill will be held at the House of Representatives. TRYING TO SAVE MONEY.
Bristow Combines Cuban Bureaus—A Significant Assertion.

Havana, May 30.—Although, in consequence of the Bristow day functions, the post office and the office of the Postal Department were closed, Mr. Bristow and the inspectors were hard at work until 10 o'clock. Mr. Bristow amalgamated the money order and register bureaus under a chief, thus effecting a reduction of $500 in expenses. The department bureau was also reorganized, and the expenditure was reduced $1500.

Mr. Bristow, however, has had higher authority than his own for every expenditure he has made, owing to his party loyalty, he has kept quiet under insults. It is not likely that he will submit much longer.
